Top 10 Reasons to Believe “Majority Rules”

1. The survey was randomly given to students in grades 9-12.
2. Students completed the anonymous survey online. They were only asked to provide their grade and gender.
3. The data came from responses your classmates provided.
4. The statistics reflect marijuana and or alcohol use within the past month.
5. The Groton Adolescent Substance Abuse Prevention (GASP) Coalition sponsors the survey, not Groton Public Schools.
6. The surveys are professionally evaluated by a consultant who is not affiliated with the school.
7. Surveying 600 students provides an accurate representation of the student body.
8. Just because your friends say they smoke or drink, doesn't mean they do.
9. Not everyone gives in to peer pressure!
10. The “Majority Rules” campaign is based on research proven to be effective by Jeffrey Linkenbach, ED. For more information, visit mostofus.org.
